

REALSCREEN SUBSCRIBE | LOG IN

DOCUMENTARY

FORMATS

Q

UNSCRIPTED

PEOPLE/BIZ

CORONAVIRUS

CAREERS

DOCS

Jackson Wild Festival unveils finalists for awards

By Kelly Anderson

August 11, 2020

Top Stories

PEOPLE/BIZ
Peter Salmon,
Lucinda Hicks
appointed top posts
for Banijay UK team

Moving from a biennial to an annual competition, the finalists for the Jackson Wild Media Awards include The Octopus in My House and My Octopus Teacher, both up for multiple awards. Apple original The Elephant Queen (pictured) is also up for multiple awards.

PEOPLE/BIZ

NBCUniversal shuffles TV, streaming businesses; Paul Telegdy exits

More than 150 international judges selected the finalists from 620 category entries from more than 30 countries, and the winners will be decided upon over the coming weeks.

This year, Jackson Wild is committed to elevating short form entries, and another new addition is the Impact Campaign category, highlighting projects that motivate people, organizations and policy makers to make change.

DOCUMENTARY
MIPCOM Picks
submission deadline extended

Nominees in the latter category include Peng Yu Sai from Malaika Vaz and Nitye Sood and Untamed Planet Films; Sea of Shadows from Terra Mater Factual Studios in association with Appian Way, Malaika Pictures, and The Wild Lens Collective for National Geographic Documentary Films; and The Elephant Queen, a Deeble, Stone & Oliff production for Apple Originals.

Winners will be announced during the Jackson Wild Media
Awards first virtual ceremony on October 1.

Back to business: Campfire, Crazy Legs, Cream and Pioneer talk returning to work

To see the full list of finalists, click here.